

Department of
Obstetrics and Gynecology

Gynecologic Oncology Fellowship

NYU Langone's Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology offers a three-year Gynecologic Oncology Fellowship with the mission of training fellows to be outstanding physician scientists, as well as clinical gynecologic oncologists. Our fellowship director is Whitfield B. Growdon, MD, and our program is accredited by the ACGME.

Meet Our Current Fellows

Rhea Eubanks, MD

First-Year Fellow, Class of 2027

Hometown: Reynoldsburg, Ohio

Medical school: Loyola University Chicago Stritch School of Medicine

Residency: University of Cincinnati Medical Center

Hobbies: OrangeTheory, running, yoga, hiking, musical theater

Why I chose NYU Langone: I happily chose NYU Langone for fellowship for a multitude of reasons. The training is dedicated to providing excellent care to those who are disadvantaged which is evident through the work done at Bellevue Hospital. The surgical training is outstanding! What I am most excited about is working with my co-fellows who are amazing doctors and human beings who I am excited to learn from and work alongside during my fellowship training.

Jude Nawlo, MD

Second-Year Fellow; Class of 2026

Hometown: Lakeland, Florida

Medical school: University of South Florida Morsani College of Medicine

Resident: NYU Long Island School of Medicine

Hobbies: biking, musicals, science fiction, bookstore hopping, visiting cat cafes

Why I chose NYU Langone: The incredible faculty mentors and fellows, diversity of the clinical experience, and comprehensive scope of learning and practice.

Jharna Patel, MD

Third-Year Fellow, Class of 2025

Hometown: Iselin, NJ

Medical school: Rutgers Robert Wood Johnson Medical School

Residency: Rutgers Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital

Hobbies: reading, cooking, hiking, watching really bad TV

Why I chose NYU Langone: The outstanding support from the faculty and the patient experience at Bellevue Hospital.

Meet Our Current Fellows

Catherine Hermann, MD

Third-Year Fellow, Class of 2027

Hometown: All over! New York is my eighth state

Medical school: University of Arizona College of Medicine- Phoenix

Residency: Penn Medicine- Pennsylvania Hospital

Hobbies: hiking, reading, skiing, and eating my way through New York City

Why I chose NYU Langone: The Bellevue experience is truly unique among fellowships, and I couldn't ask for better faculty mentors and co-fellows.