1. Scientific Session

Analyzing Transference Action in an Inhibited Young Woman

Laura Whitman, MD

Clinical Assistant Professor, Mt. Sinai Medical Center; Faculty Member, NYU Psychoanalytic Institute; and Faculty Member and Senior Candidate in Child Analysis, Columbia Center for Psychoanalytic Training & Research

Discussant: Henry Smith, MD (by invitation)

Clinical Instructor in Psychiatry, Harvard Medical School; Training and Supervising Analyst and Chair, Education Committee, Psychoanalytic Institute of New England, East; and Editor-in-Chief, The Psychoanalytic Quarterly

Educational Objectives: 1) To examine the interaction of transference and countertransference with a particularly inhibited patient; 2) to explore how to address the continuous nature of enactment in analysis; and 3) to explore how patients and analysts defend against action in the transference at the same time as they use such action as defense.

This scientific session is open to psychoanalysts, psychiatrists, psychologists, social workers, & other mental health professionals.

Program Committee Co-Chairs: Marina Mirkin, MD and Marvin A. Nierenberg, MD
